PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish—finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein: thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.
Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, drys out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin & metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.
We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.

A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.

Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. ## HOW SHOES ARE MADE.

The Oldtime Method Abandoned—Work Done by the Machine.

Nearly all the shoes manufactured at the present time are constructed by machinery. As in other mechanical industries, the oldtime method, by which each workman put together a boot from the cutting of the sole to the stitching of the upper leather, has been abandoned for the system that gives to every person employed some small part only of the task to be performed. Perchance it will not be uninteresting to review in detail the process by which a pair of men's foot coverings is evolved from the original leather. The material employed may be calfskin, buff leather, grain or split. Buff leather is ordinary cowskin, with the rough outside ground off it by a buffing wheel. Frequently the hide is sliced with a knife into two layers, the outer one next to the hair being called the grain and the inner one the split. The latter makes an excellent quality of leather, while the former has the great advantage of being waterproof. In any case, however, the first operation necessary is the tanning. This is simple, and is performed by suspending the skins, just as they come from the animal, in vats filled with hot sumach liquor or hemlock bark. For eight days or less they are left to soak, and then are taken out, washed and dried in the sun, or under cover with revolving fans. Finally they are carefully blacked—for ordinary use at any rate. In this condition they are brought to the factory, in big bundles, and now the process begins.

First, the operator in the cutting room places the thickest of cowhides—previously chopped into long stripes, of a width just equal to the length of the shoe desired—on a table beneath a steel die, which descends at brief intervals and cuts out a series of perfect soles, as the material is shoved along by the practiced hand of the workman. Another man chops out in like manner the various pieces for the "upper," using for this purpose dies that are manipulated by hand, with mallets to strike them with. But all really fine goods are cut out by hand entirely, the expert employing brass edged patterns around which he runs a keen knife blade. The upper is almost invariably in three pieces instead of six, as formerly. In this scrappy condition the upper of the contemplated boot is sent to the stitching department, where it is put together by girls with sewing machines of massive construction, especially adapted to this sort of work. The making of buttons and buttonholes, lining, etc., all comes under the head of stitching. This performed, the shoe that is to be goes to the laster, whose part of the task is perhaps more important to its success than that allotted to any one else.

In big factories the lasting is done by a "team" of men. No. 1 takes the wooden last and tacks the insole upon it, passing it over thereupon to No. 2, who stretches the upper over the last and tacks it so as to hold. No. 3 lays the outer sole over the insole, and secures it with lasting tacks. The shoe, thus fixed temporarily in shape, is next sewn together by machine, and the sole is finally attached with pegs or screws. It is a wonderful thing to see the mechanical contrivance devised for this purpose go over the bottom of a boot with an endless wire screw in its jaws, putting in metallic pegs wherever needed, never too long and never too short, until one shoe is completed and thrown aside for another, the whole operation being gone through from beginning to end automatically. Now the job is taken up by the heeler, who affixes the heel already prepared by a single stroke of a machine hammer, while a knife is whirled around almost simultaneously and cuts the new attachment cleanly to the proper shape. This done, the product, now nearly finished, goes to a person who blacks the edges of the sole and heel. The final touches are added by an artist who burnishes these same parts with an oscillating wheel, and the shoes are ready for market.

Such is the process by which nearly all the shoes made in New England are turned out. It is a curious fact, by the way, that the shoes made for selling in this part of the country have much lower insteps than those sent to the south; people here possessing feet but slightly arched—a symptom of physical degeneration, it is said. The manufacturer is obliged, in fact, to produce a boot of special shape for every small section of the country supplied by him, and it is quite the usual thing to send around agents to the retailers to secure the measurements of the local pedal extremities in such and such a township, from which a general average is figured out and lasts designed accordingly.—Boston Cor. Chicago Tribune.

A Hint to the Workingman.

"Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise," and we may be thankful that it is so, for otherwise what a sight of misery there would be. Take the average workman today. What use has he made of his life? Has he done anything, either for himself or his fellow men, that will cause him to be remembered by them when he shall have gone hence? What has he lived for? Has it been for the improvement of his mind and the good of his family and friends? Let us hope it has.

But you may ask, "What has this to do with mechanics or the trades?"

We answer, that it has everything to do with them and with those that represent them. What we want is more intelligent and thoughtful men, not in the pulpit, the law office or the counting room alone, but in the shop and at the workbench—the very place where real intelligence counts and is needed if anywhere. We are not bound to let others think and direct for us, nor will we be bound to the thoughts and ideas of others unless we are satisfied with an animal existence. — A. B. Guernsey in Boston Budget.

A Church Supported by Cotton.

A Baptist church in Choctaw county, Ala., is supported entirely from the proceeds of the church farm, a tract of sixteen acres planted in cotton. The land is rented by the church members, and on regular occasions they all get together and give the ground a thorough tilling free of charge. The church thus has an income sufficient for its needs, and the pastor never feels any anxiety about his salary.—New York Evening World.

LIFE IN THE AZORES.

Farms of St. Michael's Island—Carrying Off Islanders—The Risks.

St. Michaels is so densely populated that the government has been compelled to limit the amount of property obtainable by one person. This in a measure equalizes and controls the financial interests of the islanders. Viewed from the quarterdeck the farms all appear of the same size, as marked off by the well trimmed hedge rows or lines of tropical plants that serve to define the limits. The care bestowed upon these farms—if really they can be called farms—is equal to that usually given to a bed of plants or one of rare flowers. A ride in the country affords one most pleasant surprises, for never have I seen such beautiful gardens as those surrounding the different private residences. The islanders are very hospitable to strangers and especially to Americans.

The country is so limited that none but the wealthy can afford to purchase, and as a result many a young man burns with the desire to leave it and seek his fortune in America. But every one who leaves the island is required to have a passport. This passport states that the individual is no longer subject to military duty, is free of debt and of crime. To both men and women these passports are furnished, but the fee charged is so high that the purse of the peasants will not enable them to buy, or if they do buy they usually step aboard the American bound packet in a penniless condition. Boys commence as soon as they are able to work to save money—not as American lads do, for Fourth of July firecrackers, but to pay the price exacted by the government—the price demanded for their rights, their privileges, for their freedom, the right to go forth a free man. This is Europe. This is tyranny, but tyranny is represented by only one small mouth of the monster, whose arms and creepers have so long held down in ignorance, in penury and in want the masses of the continent.

To evade if possible the passport laws many attempt to board the packets by stealth. It is a most hazardous undertaking, and to be caught in the act entails no end of future surveillance if not imprisonment. Nevertheless, many do succeed in thus getting off, and some of the incidents connected with the carrying off of islanders are full of adventure and excitement.

The method usually resorted to by the captains of the packet ships which touch in here every month or so is to make some secret arrangement with one or more persons acting for the rest. The captains must needs be wary and cautious. Should they be caught by a Portuguese man of war or gunboat their vessels will be confiscated, and they themselves liable to fine or imprisonment or both. It is arranged that the people be at a certain isolated spot on the beach at an agreed upon hour. Accordingly the captain of the packet vessel "clears" from port with only those passengers who are provided with passports. A government officer accompanies the vessel until the latter is well clear of the land, and then leaves her to pursue her course. She continues to stand out to sea, until, night coming on, the captain heads the vessel in for shore toward the agreed upon locality, lowers a boat with a good, strong crew well armed, and again stands out to sea. The boat pulls cautiously in under the gloom of the shore, and ere long is hauled up in the dark shade of huge overhanging rocks. The boat's crew stand by their oars while the one in charge scrutinizes carefully all about him, then lands, and stealthily approaches the agreed upon spot.

Here in a cave, or among the recesses of large, towering cliffs with the sea roaring about them as it breaks against the rocks, are huddled together a score of men and women, parents and children, mothers with babes in their arms, and girls whose pretty faces are trickling with tears from the excitement, the fear, the something they know not what. The sailor's presence is soon made known, not a moment is to be lost. Quickly and carefully the women are first put in, and with them their little bundles. As many of the men are got in as will not endanger the safety of the boat. The eagerness of the latter can hardly be restrained, for it may be that a father or mother must remain, as it is rare that a boat will risk a second return. Allowing the boat an hour or two in which to make the shore the captain again "stands in." But he does not dare take too many risks, and if the boat is not clear of the shadow of the land, he does not hesitate to leave it and pull away. Many Portuguese reach the states by this means, and one line plying between the United States and the western islands carries off great numbers at each trip. It is quite a remunerative business—carrying of "rock fish" (islanders), as the sea captains style it.

The Negroes of the Woods.

The most interesting scientific labors of Prince Roland Bonaparte have hardly been mentioned by the newspapers. His study of the Negroes of the Woods in Dutch Guinea, South America, is perhaps the most unique contribution that has been made to anthropology in recent years. There are about 8,000 of these creatures, living far from the abode of white men. They are full blooded negroes, the descendants of escaped slaves, who in the depths of American forests have reproduced the habitations and many of the customs of their fatherland. It is interesting to trace the resemblance between some of the Guinea coast natives and these Negroes of the Woods, whose common ancestors lived in west Africa two centuries ago. About three years ago Prince Roland Bonaparte embodied the result of his studies of those people in an entertaining volume, and his account of their history, customs and rude arts is all the more interesting because they furnish, perhaps, the only instance of savage people who have been torn from their homes and taken thousands of miles over the sea to perpetuate their particular phases of savage life for centuries in a new land.—New York Sun.

Fall of a Horse.

No man unaccustomed to riding can imagine what a very slight carrom will throw a horse when at full speed. It knocks the animal out of his stride. He may be leading with his right leg and the jostle will cause him to change to the left. Nothing is more likely to cause a fall than this.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Stingy Young Man.

I would go across a muddy street of a very muddy day to shake hands with the person who stands at the head of this paragraph, and when I had shaken hands I should perhaps humbly beg him for his autograph or a lock of his hair. And wherefore? Because, to be a "stingy young man" means in popular parlance a young man who has the moral courage to spend his money in his own way. It means that because he happens to be in a crowd of addle pated greenhorns who are throwing away their earnings in a manner that does not bring a return to them or any one else, he refuses to "chip in." It means that he doesn't have a monthly whisky, livery, theatre, florist or confectionery bill in excess of his monthly earnings.

It means that he doesn't rob his employers, or, if he is a bank cashier, his bank to minister to his illicit plensures. It means that his tailor bill is paid promptly, ditto his board bill; that if he has a mother or sister not too well off he can and does afford them an occasional generous gift. It means that while every designing girl of his acquaintance is not a recipient at his hands of costly flowers and confectionery, the girl he likes best has plenty of both and both are paid for. This term of reproach means also that while his generous colleague is talking slush about the extravagance of girls and the impossibility of supporting such creatures, that he, our "stingy young man," has a nice little bank account; has been accepted by his sweetheart, and is giving her more comforts than the spendthrift, in his prodigal selfishness, thinks anybody but himself is entitled to.—Chicago Times.

True Worth of Plain People.

The place to study American women in their varieties is at Washington. The congressmen's wives and daughters come there and the constituents' daughters and wives too, and most of the difference in them at first is that some are thick and some are thin. The thin ones have had a good deal of hard work and worry, thick ones have worked hard and not had so much worry. I don't mean they are poor. The finest house in an inland city in my youth belonged to a man whose wife died soon after he made his fortune and built his mansion, and she always said the care of her fine house killed her.

The change from simple, easy going village life to pretentious society which adds constantly to its rules and standards must be one of effort and exhaustion. Too often a worthy man sees his plain wife at a disadvantage beside the smiling, gracious, carefully drilled women who live to smile and to shine, and though he feels sore at the contrast, he cannot but be vexed at himself for it. What she feels can never be told. The balm for all such hurts is that the plain people are nearer right than the showy ones, and behave more suitably to their circumstances and as citizens of a republic. Plain people do not push themselves forward, and make no pretense to be what they are not, have a real dignity which no slurs can affect. They have more to do with the life and prosperity of this continent than the very fine ladies whose luncheon parties and reception dresses are in the daily papers.—Shirley Dare's Letter.

Born to Be Leaders.

The average college president is but a poor judge of human nature. It is useless to try to coerce a large body of young men into the observance of any set of rules. I found in the course of a few years in the chair of a college president that in every school there are a few young men who are born leaders, and whom the rest of the boys follow as sheep do the bell wether. I made it my business early in each session to find out who these leaders were, and then I cultivated them. By placing in their hands responsibility for the good deportment of the entire school I secured the best possible discipline, and yet my young friends never dreamed that they were rendering me any service. From what I have seen in seminaries for young ladies the same rule holds good. Grown up girls can be led by a very fine string, but they are most difficult to drive.—Rev. Edward Cooper in Globe-Democrat.

Partridge of the Steppes.

German sporting men and naturalists are interested in the reports from several different parts of that country of the appearance this year of the "partridge of the steppes" (Syrrhaptha paradoxus), a bird hitherto found only in the Asiatic steppes. It is not so large as the European partridge. Its color is dirty yellow passing into light bay; on the head, throat and around the eye, orange predominates; the breast is gray and the belly black; the back is streaked with black crossbands, and the wings are dark brown; the feet have only three toes; the feathers on the feet are like fine hair, and come down to the toes, while the soles have a scaly covering; the middle tail feathers and the tip of the wings are long and finely pointed. No reason is known for its quitting its old home and appearing in Germany.—New York Sun.

A Resting Place for Horses.

A Home of Rest for Horses is a successful English scheme. The chief object is to give temporary rest to the horses of cab drivers and poor traders, who in most cases are obliged to keep their beasts at work until past help, when a timely holiday would restore the poor creatures. Every comfort and convenience is at hand to make life pleasant and easy to the old horses. Summer and winter boxes, large and airy, warm clothes, regular and plentiful meals, an extensive stable yard for winter exercise, and a splendid grass run is at their disposal; and if anything ails the ancient almoners, the veterinary surgeon of the society comes with his skill to their aid.—Chicago Herald.

For Wetting Stamps.

Something much superior to a sponge when you have a large number of envelopes to stamp is wet blotting paper several times folded. Its finer capillary action permits the proper degree of moisture to be obtained by regulating the pressure with which the stamp is applied, and obviates the excessive wetness and consequent dissolution of the gum attendant upon the use of a sponge.—"A. N. J." in The Writer.

WONDERS WILL NEVER CEASE.

This homely saying is again made forcible by Edison's perfected phenograph. This is a most wonderful instrument for preserving, and for repeating at any time or place, from a permanent acoustic record, the tones and articulate syllables uttered by the human voice. It also records and repeats with accurate minuteness every kind of musical and other sounds. The value of the instrument can be readily appreciated when it is stated that it is capable of recording a long or short speech or message which can be transmitted thousands of miles to the hearing of a future auditor. The London News in giving a brief account of this wonderful invention, says:

"There is a disk of bright metal, rather larger than a shilling piece, so poised as to vibrate in correspondence with any sound that is received by the instrument. Below, and attached to this disk is a minute point of metal, like a fine pin, which, as the diaphragm or disk vibrates, cuts an exceedingly delicate, sinuous, hair-like line into a revolving cylinder of wax. When the record is once engraved on the cylinder, we can, by reversing the movement, get back from the instrument the sounds that were put into it. If a person wants to phonograph a dispatch to New York, he talks into the mouthpiece, the cylinder is turned round by the electric current, the repeating disk vibrates in harmony with the voice, and the minute point below traces on the wax surface of the cylinder its invisible curves, and that is all. The message is done, you can now take it off and post it—at the ordinary letter rate to America. In those four inches he has a thousand words, which would be a very long letter. Probably he does not wish to send more than 250 words. If so, a corresponding length can be cut off and dispatched by post. The phonogram produced would in New York be placed on a corresponding machine, and exactly reproduced."

John Quinn of Petaluma, whom it was recently claimed was suffering from hydrophobia, was married Monday to a young lady to whom he had been engaged for some time. It now transpires that he was not a victim to that malady, and his queer antics were due to an attack of insanity, from which he has not yet wholly recovered. That a girl could bring herself to marry an insane person is revolting in the extreme and there can be no reasonable explanation for her conduct unless it be that she, too, is off her base.

Gen. Phil Sheridan, who next to Grant and Sherman, was one of the greatest Generals of the Civil War, died at Nonquitte, Mass., last Sunday night. For months he has been hovering between life and death and in consequence his countrymen have been prepared for the worst. Gen. Sheridan was one of the bravest and most successful cavalry leaders in the war of the Rebellion and a natural born soldier.

Vice-President Wetmore of the State Board of Viticulture estimates that the grape yield this season will be about one-fourth below the average. The berries will be much smaller in size, and the amount of profit will be cut down to the extent of $5,000,000 at least. The reason of this is the lack of rains last spring.

The grape crop of Napa county will be one-third below the average this season on account of the vine hopper and the hot dry weather during July.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

Washington, Aug. 3, 1888.

Chief Justice Fuller has leased a magnificent residence in this city. It is situated in the northern section, and being built on very high ground, it overlooks the entire city, and affords a picturesque view for miles down Potomac River. It is one of the most expensive private residence ever erected here, having cost, it is said, $120,000, exclusive of the three acres of land in the centre of which it is built. It is within a stone's throw of Mrs. Logan's home. The ten daughters with which the new Chief Justice is blessed, will certainly have a grand house in which to entertain.

The House bill creating an executive department out of the present Department of Agriculture has been favorably reported to the Senate, with the clause transferring the weather bureau left out.

The feeling, as old almost as our Government on the part of members of the House, that the Senate domineered over that body cropped out this week again. Representatives Blount and Crisp of Georgia made vigorous protests against the House conferees on the Army appropriation bill giving up everything to the Senators.

An attempt was made this week to attach the direct tax bill as an amendment to the Sundry Civil appropriation bill, in the Senate, but it was ruled out on a point of order that it was general legislation. This is well enough, too. One deadlock is quite enough for one session.

Representative Burns of Missouri in a speech opposing the item in the Army appropriation bill for the establishment of a Government gun factory, called the Ordnance officers of the Army "the popinjays of the War Department."

Whenever two or three Congressmen are gathered together political prophecies are apt to be plentiful. Here are some specimens. Representative Wilkins of Ohio says the next House is sure to be Democratic; Representative Foran of the same State says it will be Republican by from ten to fifteen majority; Representative Bynum of Indiana says it is impossible for the Republicans to get up a tariff bill that will pass the Senate, owing to diversity of opinion; Representative Cannon of Illinois says the proposition to cut the sugar duty fifty per cent or to abolish it altogether would get every Republican vote in both House and Senate.

The President returned from his four day yachting trip in time to sign the joint resolution extending the old appropriations thirty days longer. Mrs. Cleveland came home several days later.

The Outhwaite bill has been favorably reported to the Senate from the select committee on Pacific Railroads.

The Senate bill providing for a $30,000 equestrian statue of Zachary Taylor, in this city, has been favorably reported to the House.

Senator Hoar's resolution for the appointment of a committee of seven Senators to investigate our trade relations with Canada has been agreed to.

The preliminary report of the House Committee investigating trusts say they (the trusts) have all been organized so as to avoid the law against conspiracy. It surely did not need months of investigation to accertain that.

"Are we to have a recess?" was the question which Representative Baker of New York asked in the House the other day, to which the speaker responded: "The chair cannot inform the gentleman."

An amendment to the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, giving $250,000 for the preliminary operations toward irrigating our arid lands, has been accepted by the Senate.

An effort is being made to pass a bill giving the surplus from the appropriation for the Ohio Valley Centennial to the Richmond, Va., and Agusta, Ga., expositions.

Representative McMillan is speaker pro tem during speaker Carlisle's temporary absence from the city.

A member of Congress says Mr. Cleveland told him he would sign the river and harbor bill.

There seems to be a disposition on the part of some of the Republican Representatives to object to the leadership of Mr. Reed in the House. Mr. Butterworth, of Ohio, gave his feathers quite a ruffling on Wednesday, and some of the other Republicans seemed to enjoy the fun greatly

A Cheap Ice Chest—Take two dry good boxes, one of which is enough smaller than the other to leave a space of about three inches all around when it is placed inside. Fill the space between the two with sawdust packed closely, and cover with a heavy lid made to fit neatly inside the larger box. Insert a small pipe in the bottom of the chest to carry off the water from melting ice, and you have a very cheap and tolerably effective ice box for family or grocers' use.

Wormy Dried Fruit.

About this subject a writer and fruit drier of experience says: "A great deal of money is lost every year by dried fruit becoming wormy, the most of this loss falling upon those dealers who have the fruit on hand when the worms hatch out, the makers of the fruit and often the first and second hands through which it passes having got rid of it before that period arrives. Anything which will guarantee dried fruit against worms will insure a better price to the maker and the dealer. The worms proceed from eggs deposited on the fruit when out in the sun drying, and upon evaporated fruit after it comes from the drier and before it is packed. Drier cured fruit as soon as taken from the drier, and while still hot, should be carried into a dark room and left there on the trays to cool. The work of sorting and packing should be done in a room perfectly protected with wire screen windows and doors, with outside vestibules to the doors. The eggs on sun-dried fruits can be killed when the fruit is taken up dried, by dipping the fruit in scalding water. After scalding, the fruit should be spread on draining boards in a dark room which should be ventilated, but all apertures protected by wire screens. The same protection by wire screens in the packing room is needed for evaporated fruits. The use of steam upon light colored fruits for killing eggs is to be avoided, as it turns the fruit dark colored. Any dried fruit maker or dealer who can vouch for his goods by guaranteeing them against worms can secure an extra price for such goods. Dried fruit packed in burlap or loose mesh cotton sacks is liable to have eggs deposited on it between the meshes, but fine woven cotton cloth sacks will keep them out."

A Grateful Acknowledgment.

Gentlemen: I wish to proclaim to the world what S. S. S. has done for me. For the past ten years I have been afflicted with dreadful eruptions on my face, caused by ivy poison. I was under the treatment of a number of physicians, but obtained no relief. I tried the best "blood purifiers in the market, but without avail. I had given up in despair, thinking I could not be cured; but happening to read the Detroit Journal, I noticed S. S. S. advertised and read Mrs. Bradley's testimonial. I thought I would try this remedy. I have taken eight bottles, and there is not a spot on my face. It has also cured me of chronic catarrh. I have never enjoyed better health than I do at present. I feel like a new person. I cannot find words sufficient to express my appreciation of its merits, and the gratitude I feel for the glad tidings that came to me through the reading of the advertisement. Wishing you every success. I am, yours truly.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 327 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 6, 1888.

Dear Sir: I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler,
327 Ellis street.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

Dear Sir: It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. After eating I would have a faint or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble was aggravated by my business, painting. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." George A. Page, Watertown, Mass.

The facts sought to be established by the said testimony are as follows, to-wit: That on or about the 23d day of December, 1873, the aforesaid Anna M. Harding, and that her husband, Isaac Harding, had no right, title or interest in or to the same.

Burned With Powder.

On Friday afternoon of last week a man named Bulotti, employed on the Malone ranch on Sonoma Mountain, while engaged in blasting a log was badly burned about the face and hands by the premature explosion of a can of powder. In lighting the fuse he held a match in one hand while in the other was a can partially filled with powder, and before he could get out of harm's way the blast went off with a loud report, igniting the powder which he held in his hand, and injuring him as narrated above. He made his way to Mr. Malone's house and his injuries were subsequently attended to by Dr. Lawrence. Immediately after the explosion the dry grass in the vicinity caught fire and it required great exertions on the part of a large force of men to put it out.

Almost a Fatal Mistake.

On Wednesday morning Mrs. J. B. Small had a narrow escape by swallowing a quantity of pure liquid ammonia, which she mistook for a harmless medicine. It appears the ammonia bottle had been placed on a shelf alongside the other bottle without Mrs. Small's knowledge and as both bottles were nearly alike and being in a hurry she picked up the the wrong vial and pouring out a small quantity swallowed about a tablespoonful. Instantly she realized that a mistake had been made and called in a neighbor, who administered a mixture consisting of the white of an egg and a quantity of olive oil. This gave her instant relief, if it did not save her life. The ammonia bodly burned her lips, tongue and throat, but no serious results are apprehended.

A Cleveland and Thurman Club.

At a meeting of the Democratic club held in this place on Friday of last week the Committee on Permanent Organization made a report and recommended that the name of the club be known as the Cleveland and Thurman Club. The recommendation of the Committee was adopted. The Committee also reported the following gentlemen as permanent officers: J. B. Small, President; Shubrick Norris, First Vice President; H. C. Lutgens, Second Vice President; E. H. Pauli, Secretary; M. Muldry, Treasurer. The following were appointed an Executive Committee: G. W. Sparks, Ed. Wegner, B. Spencer, W. P. Wilson and E. Gilbert. The club already numbers a membership of thirty or more.

A Hung Jury.

Jas. A. Porter and G. W. Clark of this place were two of the jurors who tried the case of Joseph Frey, charged with murder, in the Superior Court at Santa Rosa last Tuesday. The jury were unable to agree, standing eleven for manslaughter and one for acquittal, the obstinate juror being Patrick Redmond, an undertaker of Santa Rosa.

Frey was one of the two men who robbed the Cloverdale and Ukiah stage on the 29th of last April. They were pursued and overtaken by Constable Crigler and a farmer named Samuel Allen, when a fight ensued in which the Constable was killed by Preuss, one of the robbers, who in turn was shot dead by Allen. Frey was also badly wounded by the intrepid young farmer but managed to make his escape but was subsequently captured.

Death of James Pieratt.

James Pieratt, for almost a quarter of a century a resident of this valley, died very suddenly at his home near Glen Ellen, last Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Pieratt was the father of James, John, Albert, William and Litch Pieratt, young men well and favorably known in this valley. Deceased was a native of Kentucky and aged 69 years. He was buried in this place last Wednesday afternoon and his remains were followed to their last resting place by his aged widow, his five sons and a host of other relatives and friends.

Those Pesky Critters.

Mosquitoes were never known to be so troublesome in this section as they have been for the past few weeks. In the hills a short distance from town they are so numerous and aggressive that it is almost impossible for sportsmen to engage in hunting or fishing. Even a decoction of pennyroyal applied to the exposed parts, which will keep the average mosquito off, appears to have little or no effect on these particular mosquitoes. They get there just the same.

Glen Ellen Gossip.

The thermometer stands 100 degess in the shade.

An increase of travel is noticeable on the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad.

James Pieratt, an old resident of this place, died here last Tuesday morning of dropsy.

The Dunbar School began last Monday with Miss Fannie Bennett as teacher.

Through the antics of a vicious horse Jim Kelly dislocated his shoulder last Saturday night. Dr. Davis of Sonoma was immediately sent for and in a short time had the shoulder as good as ever.

*Decrease.

It will be seen from the above that there has been an increase in valuation over 1887 in all the townships in the county except Knight's Valley, which shows a falling off of $9805. We are unable to account for this one exception unless it be that the Deputy Assessor for that particular locality was inclined to be easy on the Knight's Valley tax-payers, for surely nothing has transpired over that way to cause a depreciation in land values. Will the Deputy please rise and explain?

A Little Waif.

A lad named Daley McGuire was taken into custody by Jailor Breitenbach Wednesday morning, in compliance with an order from the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of San Francisco. It appears that the little fellow made his escape from the ranch of W. D. Jones, near this city, by whom he was adopted, and had been wandering about the streets for a week past. Mr. Jones applied for his release, but the officer refused to return him to his care, and he was sent to San Francisco on the afternoon train. The little fellow says that his adopted father treated him cruelly and forced him to do the work of a man. This statement was denied by Mr. Jones, who says that he treated the youth with kindness and consideration. The little waif did not want to be returned to the society in San Francisco.—Democrat.

Helping the Right Side.

To help the right side is not only commendable in a general point of view, but is judicious and prudent when that help is enlisted in behalf of the right side of the body, just over the lower ribs in the region of the liver. The most efficient help is afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an anti-bilious medicine of incomparable efficacy. Inaction of the liver is accompanied by constipation, sick-headache, furred tongue, nausea, occasional vertigo, an unpleasant breath, yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye. The author of these symptoms, liver complaint, routed by the Bitters is accompanied by them in its flight. Fever and ague, which always involves the liver, dyspepsia, rheumatism, debility and kidney troubles are all maladies to the early relief and final cure of which this standard medicine is adapted. Don't use it by fits and starts, but systematically, that its full effects may result in a perfect restoration of health.

Labor and Fruit.

Printer's ink has accomplished many wonders, and one of the latest is the apparent settlement of the labor problem is the Vacaville district, and perhaps in other fruit regions as well. When it became apparent that there would be another grand crop of peaches this year, the memory of the scurry of last year to get hands to handle the fruit led many to question whence would come the labor supply this. The growers were not long left in suspense, for reports began to come into the district of parties who intended to visit the valleys during the fruit harvest and camp as long as profitable employment lasted. This was comforting, but few had any idea that this supply would be equal to the demand. The last few weeks have demonstrated the fact that there need be no apprehension about sufficient help for this season. Our Vacaville correspondent speaks of the abundance of help and of the long distances which some families have traversed to reach the orchards. This is excellent news. The labor helps the fruit-growers out of an anticipated predicament and the wages earned will be of great assistance to those who may be waiting for their own places to reach profitable age or help others who trust to grain to carry over the dry year. The revelation of such an amount of available labor is very satisfactory. It has been disclosed through the frequent announcement in all the papers that the fruit-growers needed help and paid well for it. Thus we claim that printer's ink is to be largely credited with the relief which is now being experienced.

It seems now warranted to draw the conclusion that there will be in the future all the help that fruit-growers will need, and orchard-planters need not hesitate for fear they will not be able to get help when needed. The California climate, which favors camping, and the California disposition to ride or drive long distances, bid fair to bring into the orchards every year an abundance of transient laborers. This prediction is safer because of the rate at which the population of the State has been increasing during the last few years. There is every reason to believe that there will be two or more available summer laborers next year where there is one this year. The fact of the demand for help will spread farther, as those who try it this year go home and tell of their pleasant experiences and profits. This will incite more to come forward next year, and with the new-comers to the State will we believe double the available supply for next year. This is a fortunate matter, because it in a measure answers the claim that fruit-growers must arrange for a large supply of all-the-year labor, which in most cases is impracticable.—Rural Press.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

MONDAY, August 6th.

The Board of Supervisors met at the Court House, Santa Rosa, in regular monthly session at 10:30 A. M., this date. Present, Supervisors O'Hara, Allen, Connolly, Davis and Coulter.

After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting the Board took up the Road Overseers' reports. The following were received and placed on file and accompanying bills allowed:

C. Y. Caldwell, Santa Rosa, $63.50; H. A. Russell, Fulton, $62.25; D. W. Long, Vallejo, $640.23; Gallant Rains, Petaluma, $261; A. J. Packwood, Russian River, $37.62; T. Riley, Knights Valley, $91.95; C. E. Rosebrough, Cloverdale, $40.25; Thomas Furlong, Bodega, $335.85.

In the matter of the petition of citizens of Analy township asking the Board to rescind its action at the last session, whereby it refused to transfer the sum of $300 to the Analy Road District fund to be expended in the repair of bridges in said road district, Mr. Allen moved that the petition be received, the resolution in question rescinded and the sum of $300 transferred from the General fund to the Analy Road District fund for the purpose above mentioned.

Mr. Coulter moved as an amendment that the sum of $750 be transferred from the General fund to the Redwood Road District fund, to be applied in payment of a bridge across Hulbert creek on the Guernville and Duncan Mills road.

The vote on the amendment resulted: Aye—Coulter, Connolly and O'Hara. No—Allen and Davis.

The vote was then taken on the original motion as amended, and resulted in its loss, the only affirmative vote being cast by Mr. Connolly.

The report of E. F. O'Leary, Road Overseer of Analy Road District, was received, and the accompanying bill of $32 was allowed, likewise the report of C. J. Parkenson, of Mendocino road district, and the bill of $93.15.

At 5 P. M., the Board adjourned to meet at call of the chair, for the purpose of visiting the Agua Caliente bridge.

The Great Land Enterprise.

Energetic measures are being adopted by the Mexican Land and Development Co., for the carrying out of the great enterprize to which we alluded in a recent issue in connection with the Grant of Land it has acquired in the state of Tamaulipas, Mexico. The hardest of the surveying is already done, and it is estimated that in a year 4,800,000 acres can be surveyed, of which the Company will take 1,600,000 acres.

The land has navigable rivers, and harbors, and coal, and dense forests of fine timber, and petroleum, and precious metals, and other minerals; but suppose it had nothing at all except the bare land, and suppose that it does not bring more than the $1.25 per acre, you might figure what the profit will be on some million acres.

We know what land is. We can see it. It is always where we can examine it. The most successful companies for some years have been organized on land. The whole world knows what a boom there was in Southern California last year, and the many fortunes that were made. None of these begin to compare with this enterprise in magnitude, nor in its possibilities. It comprises not alone millions of acres of land but the opening for many industries.

See the Company's advertisement elsewhere.

Children

Often need some safe cathartic and tonic to avert approaching sickness or to relieve colic, headache, sick stomach, indigestion, dysentery and the complaints incident to childhood. Let the children take Simmons Liver Regulator and keep well. It is purely vegetable, not unpleasant to the taste and safe to take alone or in connection with other medicine.

The directors of the Sonoma and Marin District Agricultural Association will please accept our thanks for a complimentary ticket to their Fair which opens in Petaluma, August 20th and closes August 25th. The Fair and races promise to be exceedingly attractive this season and a large number of people from this valley will attend.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Notsrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

PATRONS OF THE SCULPTOR.

Ladies Who Want Their Faces Duplicated in Marble or Terra Cotta.

Sculptors have at last become the rage as well as painters. It is all the style now for a woman to have her bust made by a sculptor of renown. If a painting renders the expression of eyes and face more faithfully, on the other hand the bust shows plastic beauty, the graceful bend of the head, the curve of the neck and the slope of the shoulders. Beside, there is a certain dignity of bearing attached to a bust that one in vain tries to see in a painting. Marble seems to bring out all the austere virtues of the model; it is cold; it is classical. A mundane visitor entering a drawing room in which he sees the bust of the lady he is calling upon is apt to be so impressed with her cold dignity that however willing he was on his entrance to engage in an innocent flirtation, the sight of the bust will freeze his intentions. How different it is with a painting. The face is sure to have its finest, most engaging smile, the dress the most becoming shade and cut, the pose most suggestive of amiable sociability, the head so tapering, soft and shakable, the whole so charming, so fascinating, that every gentleman beholder cannot but think: "How lovely that woman must be in a tete-a-tete."

Some ladies prefer terra cotta to marble; it gives the bust a more life like appearance; the accentuation of the features is less austere and hard. But terra cotta is most fragile; climate and dust affect it; besides, it is not considered nearly as elegant as marble. It is much more disagreeable to pose for a bust than a painting; the sculptor's studio is generally cold, bare, scantily draped and furnished; the model must mount on a hard bearing block, for she must be raised a certain distance above the eyes of the artist. The wet clay is first applied on an iron apparatus; then the sculptor, with large strokes of the gauge, traces the shape of the head and the outline of neck and shoulders, after which, with the end of his thumb, he models the face, forms the nose, digs out the eyes, gives shape to the neck and cheek and sketches the ears. "How slovenly a sculptor goes about to make works of art," exclaimed a lady, surprised to see a great artist in his stained white blouse, an old straw hat over his eyes, his face full of splashes of clay and his hands wrist deep in wet mud. The great sculptor Pajau, before the king and the whole court at Versailles, used to take his coat off and raise his shirt sleeves above the elbows to work at his models.

Society women are as hard to please with busts as with oil paintings. They watch the progress on the bearing block with feverish anxiety, for the artist may accentuate features which ought to be diminished, and lay no stress on those which produce harmony in the ensemble. "My ears are a little out of proportion, are they not?" remarks the Countess S., whose rival in society is often complimented for her small, pink, shell like appendages. "Small ears do not indicate intelligence," answers the sculptor, as he delicately molds the auricle. "But my eyes are certainly too small." "Ah, madame, they are so full of expression." "Oh, you are now paying me compliments; you know I don't want to be flattered in the least. I want the bust to be a perfect likeness." "Rest assured, madame." "Let me see!" "For Heaven's sake do not move, madame. All is lost if you do." If you wish to read between the lines of this bit of dialogue it means the following: She—I hope he will make my ears smaller and my eyes larger. I hope he knows that in art modifications are admissable. I must look to it. He—She imagines I don't understand her. She can rest assured I shall make her ears small and her eyes large. I don't care a snap whether it is a good likeness or not.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Beginning of West India Coffee.

According to De Tour, the original stock of all West India coffee was a coffee tree presented by the magistrates of Amsterdam to Louis XIV in 1715, and thence introduced into Hayti and San Domingo by the French Haytiens. Its introduction here was from Hayti. Its chief stimulus came through hundreds of rich refugees from the constant revolutions in Hayti and San Domingo; and probably coffee culture reached its greatest prosperity in Cuba during the first quarter of this century when its annual production reached nearly 100,000,000 pounds. Then it was that the planters of these noble valleys were richer than princes; frequently owned thousands of slaves each; lived in a lavish luxuriance the lingering legends of which are untellable from their apparent absurdity in the practical thought of today; and old Trinidad, down there in its somnolence by the sea, was the then "Paris chiquito," or "little Paris" of the Antilles, whose wealth, splendor and profligacy will forever remain unequaled in the New World.—Edgar L. Wakeman's Cuba Letter.

Cradles for Patagonian Babies,

Patagonian babies are kept in cradles made of flat pieces of board. Two pieces of guanaco skin are so arranged across the cradle that the child is firmly fastened inside, and can be carried thus suspended from a saddle bow without danger. In the rude huts of this people these cradles are hung hammockwise to the rafters, and amid the smoke that darkens everything, including his very nature, as it seems, the Patagonian infant passes the first stages of babyhood. When the village migrates the cradle is swung from the saddle, and in swimming a stream it floats like a canoe on the surface, while the horse is almost entirely submerged. Sir Francis Head, who saw a good deal of Patagonian life years ago, leaves on record the statement that the Patagonian baby in his queer cradle is one of the best natured representatives of the infant world.—Drake's Magazine.

Frightened by the Band.

Some Baltimore church excursionists, while on a steamboat the other day, were badly frightened by the band. The boat stopped for a few moments on account of some trivial defect in the machinery, and while the people were wondering what was the matter the band injudiciously began to play "Nearer, My God, to Thee." A few of the passengers thought that their last hour had come sure.—New York Tribune.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skilful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhœa, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, paper-covered), send ten cents in stamps. Address,
